

NFUS/DFOS meeting 16th May 2008

Dairy Farmers of Scotland (DfoS) and NFU Scotland held constructive discussions in Glasgow last week looking at the future of the dairy sector in Scotland.

The useful and passionate meeting focussed on the urgent need for sustainable milk prices, improving producer/purchaser relationships, the role of milk contracts and the potential for developing the DFOS Fair Milk brand and logo in Scotland.

The distinctive logo, which involves the Scottish saltire projected on to the outline of a dairy cow is part of the European Milk Board's Fair Milk campaign which promotes the need for a fair milk price to all dairy farmers.

The two groups have agreed to look at ways in which they can jointly work together in the interests of Scottish milk producers and will keep in regular dialogue.
